TOWNSHIP ATTORNEY'S REPORT

Attorney Magyar gave an update on the Agostino lawsuit.

He went on to report that due to board and planning commission's concern as to whether Silver Creek Township should include monies for lake protection in their master plan, he and Supervisor Saunders met with three members of the DEQ and the County Drain Commissioner. The DEQ addressed their statutory obligations under the Environmental Protection Act. Attorney Magyar indicated it was clear that the township is preempted from taking any action regarding this matter; it's a DEQ matter not township, and the township has no business getting involved.

If there are high concentrations of something in the lakes, Michigan Environmental Protection Act gives people a right to become involved, but went on to say he believes the Attorney General would then get involved.

Supervisor Saunders noted that what he took away from the meeting was that wetlands and so forth is the DEQ's -- do not touch. They are very protective of the wetlands and how they are handled, and they let the drain commissioner know that they control the Mann Drain.

Trustee Glynn said that he had gone to Indian Lake to see the Mann Drain and was able to talk about it with some of the residents. He went on to report his conversations with the residents and what he observed.

Attorney Magyar said the DEQ was going to be looking into it and was provided a copy of the Mann Drain Watershed Management Plan. Further discussion followed.

Trustee Glynn questioned whether the permanent filtration system should be included in the capital improvement plan that the Planning Commission is having a public hearing on next week.

Attorney Magyar advised not to include the permanent filtration system in the capital improvement plan. Further discussion followed.

Supervisor Saunders reported that the DEQ said that it was a clean stream coming into the lake. Attorney Magyar said that his understanding was that it was not out of line, but they would need to do more tests before they could say one way or the other. Supervisor Saunders reported it was below what a lot of other lakes receive.
